The meeting made him and the local rotary clubs aware of the following major issues.

And it is expected that the percentage will be more than double in the year 2050 at 37.1%. Some of these patients are bedridden and need a great deal of palliative care to prevent them from developing complications both in the hospitals and at homes. Palliative care is an approach that improves the quality of life of patients facing problems associated with life-threatening illness. How were members of the benefiting community involved in finding solutions?

They found out that it is necessary to continuously prepare medical equipments to meet the increasing palliative care and home care demand. Rotarian and community members also help to pool in the funding for the grant.
